THE DEER PARK

It is unfortunate that deer are particularly troublesome to foxhunters at this time of year when all our other problems are also multiplied. We have young hounds to enter, foxes to locate, wire to come down, weeds that make the country ride blind—in fact all the problems involved in getting into high gear an organization which has been running at reduced speed for the past five months. Conditions in our hunting countries are now particularly favorable for deer. There is a maximum of cover—few leaves have fallen and very little corn has been cut. Alfalfa, corn and other growing crops entice them from their mountain ranges into the farming and grazing sections which we hunt. The season for shooting deer is far away and it is not yet time for the earlier seasons on other game such as squirrels, when the crack of guns in the woods sends a great many deer scurrying back to their natural habitat.

During the spring and summer the young hounds have been learning their manners—on the road, first in couples and then loose in the pack; across natural obstacles and through wire fences; among livestock, horses, cattle, sheep, pigs and chickens. But now, when a huntsman first throws his pack into covert, he does so with considerable anxiety. He can be reasonably sure that it holds a fox; that the entered hounds will run that fox; and that the unentered hounds will thus begin to find out what all their previous training has been leading up to. On the other hand there is an almost equally good chance, in more and more of our hunting countries, that the covert also holds a deer; that some of the unentered hounds, knowing no better and enticed by the even more attractive scent, will run that deer; and that other members of the pack, including even some old hounds, will be led astray. Thus in a few minutes the discipline, which the hard work of the hunt staff has achieved during the past months, will be given a bad set-back.

What can we do about it? Although we can seek legislation which will keep the size of the deer herds in farming countries down so that they do not do serious damage to crops, we cannot carry this so far as to interfere with the sport of deer shooters and thus get ourselves embroiled in the kind of fight which kept foxhunters and bird shooters working against each other for several decades. This means that our hounds must be made deer proof or staunch to deer, in the language of ventry.

It is interesting that the American packs which have achieved the greatest success in this respect, such as the Essex and the Golden Bridge, are in countries where there is relatively little farming and where the deer herds have consequently been allowed to grow so large and so tame that they can readily be found in the open. It has thus been possible to walk the young hounds among deer, just as we walk them among sheep and pigs, and to make them understand that running deer is not their mission in life. This procedure seems to be far more effective than the drags laid with deer scent, the stags in kennels, the deer-perfumed goats and other such devices.

In an adjoining column are two letters dealing with English deer parks and the system of walking hounds among them which has long been the standard method in Britain for making hounds staunch to deer. There seems no reason why individual hunts or groups of adjacent hunts should not set up deer parks in this country, fields of 25 or 30 acres surrounded by a 12 foot fence, in which half a dozen deer could be kept during the summer months so that hounds could be walked among them. State Game Commissions, which often trap and transfer deer from one locality to another and which are interested in preventing all deer from being run by hounds, should cooperate in supplying the temporary inmates of the park. The proposal seems worthy of serious consideration.

Deer Problems

Dear Sir:

In connection with the deer problem which now plagues most American hunts, the following extract from a recent article in "Horse and Hound" should be interesting: "I got permission from Sir Richard Leighton to take hounds into Loton Park, which is a fine wild place to break hounds off deer and other riot. I took them to Loton day after day until they were properly broken; then I was granted permission to go to Longnor Park, and hounds behaved first-rate, so I was allowed to go to Longnor any time after this.

"My method of breaking hounds was this: I never had a man in front of the pack, but let hounds have a good look at any riot which showed up, and those that went or half went got a good hid-

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Hopeful and Alabama Stakes Won By Florida's King Hairan and Tennessee's Tournure

Raleigh Burroughs

When I get too old to carry my bets to the window, I may sit down and write a report, like the late Dr. Kinsey did. I don't mean to suggest that Dr. Kinsey was too old to carry his bets to the window; I mean, merely, that you have more time for such studies if you are an objective observer, rather than an active participant.

So don't be surprised if, in the next few years, you learn that young girl office workers are sneaking off in corners with "The Burroughs Report, or The Horse-Park Habits of the Human Male."

No matter what the pressure of public demand may be, I do not think I shall attempt a sequel covering the Ditto of The Human Female. That subject, I believe, is far too delicate to be placed between covers that might fall into the hands of impressionable youth.

In my book there will be a chapter—maybe several chapters—on the "serious bettor."

This individual is not to be confused with the professional Turf investor, nor the semi-pro.

The professional "don't tell nobody nuttin'," so he's a pretty quiet character, and you can't tell by looking at him whether he bet on a winner or a loser. The semi-pro hasn't quite learned to keep his mouth shut; he may issue a personal financial statement during the course of an afternoon or after the market closes. The objective of the pro and the near-pro is money not thrills. If he has more at the end of a wagering session than he had at the beginning, he has scored. He does not subscribe to dogmas set up by self-styled experts (the fellows who hope the royalties from their books will help make up their betting losses).

The "serious" bettor is quite different. He is bubbling over with lore of the Turf and is rather well boxed in by "nevers."

Never play three-year-olds against older horses (except late in the fall), he'll tell you, because that's what the books say, and he has read all the books. He hasn't noticed that many early season handicaps have been won by three-year-olds, and at magnificent prices, when they were let in with too-light imposts by handicappers who also had read the books.

He won't play two-year-old maidens, nor odds-on horses not jumpers (the best deal in the game for favorite players, incidentally). He learned at his mother's knee that these things are poisonous. And he should not be blamed; it is not his fault that his mother went in for aphorisms, rather than statistics.

On the first Saturday at Timonium, I was exposed to a nauseous serious bettor, which is to say, a typical specimen.

He was introduced to me by a well-meaning mutual friend, who advanced these credentials: "Philbert is a serious bettor: he goes around to a lot of tracks and does pretty well—I think."

Here, I thought, is material for my book. I shall put the searchlight of scrutiny upon this fellow, unbeknownst to him, of course, and gain a wealth of material.

So, acting as though I was concentrating upon the Morning Telegraph and picking one winner after another, I was able to study the creature, without his suspecting he was under observation. I am not sure that this made any difference, as an important function of the serious bettor is the explanations.

Two of these go with each race: (a) the pre-race elucidation and (b) the post-race explication. (a) explains why a certain horse should win the race, and (b) tells why it didn't.

The incidence of accuracy in (b) was much higher than in (a).

During the course of an event, the serious bettor expands upon points missed by the track announcer.

"Look what's happening to that Gao," he will shout into the ear of the unfortunate next to him. "he's in trouble. Now he's coming up up. He's gonna take it all."

Gao didn't. The winner was the favorite (at 3 to 2), Lady Virginia. Gao ran a better race than a sane man would have expected of her and finished second, paying $13.80 to place and $7.00 to show.

The serious bettor lost, because, as he says with a quaver of pride in his voice, "I only bet 'em to win. With an even shake in the running, Gao'd have won."

That's the way it went all afternoon.

In the seventh race, the S. B. (that stands for serious bettor) finally hit a winner. He broke all the rules of the order on that one. It was a three-year-old, carrying top weight and at odds on.

He'll be drummed out of the corps at the next meeting, probably, but it almost got him even for the day.

One thing that I learned about serious bettors that I shall have to put into my book: unless you're within 100 feet of one you'll never know what he's betting. They're that close-mouthed.

Saratoga

The Seminoles had an excuse for another victory dance, Saturday night, September 1, as that good-looking brown Florida-bred took another big one.

King Hairan, the property of Messrs. Leo Edwards and Harris Massey and ridden by Mr. Edward George Arcaro, registered in Saratoga's fattest feature for two-year-olds, The Hopeful.

The colt was the choice and paid $4.10 to his backers and $48,400 to his owners.

He chased the Canadian-bred Nearctic for the first half mile of the 6½-furlong test, then went past and won by 1¼ lengths. Walter M. Jeffords'

Gannet came up to get second money by four lengths over Greentree's Cohoes, second choice. Nearctic missed third money by a nose.

King Hairan (bred by W. E. Leach in Florida) was making his 12th start and accomplishing his ninth success. He has been second twice, and was unplaced in his other start.

His stakes wins have been in the Florida Breeders', Hialeah Juvenile, Gulfstream Park Dinner, Christiana, Tremont, Great American and Sapling, before the Hopeful.

His money total stands at $189,575.

Messrs. Edwards and Massey paid $35,000 for King Hairan after he had won his first start. If they had spoken earlier, they would have saved $10,000.

L. H. Hunt trains the son of King's Stride, from Lady Hairan, by Hairan.

Mrs. J. M. Branham's home-bred Tournure sprung a surprise in the Alabama, August 29, when she came from last place to take the mile-and-a-quarter grind in the final strides. King Ranch's Dotted Line missed by a nose, after leading most of the way. Levee, the choice, was three lengths back of the leaders.

Gay Life finished fourth.

Tournure, held at better than 13 to 1 in the wagering, was racking up her first win in 1956. The three-year-old filly earned $18,600, to put her season's total at $24,950.

Last season, she won 2 races, one of them the James H. Connors Memorial, and $18,590.

O. Clelland trains Tournure. Eric Guerlin rode the daughter of Condiment—Tour, by *Tourist II, in the Alabama.

Coming off three poor races which made him look like a horse that never again would win anything, Thinking Cap was made second choice by the wise New York bettors for the Merchants' and Citizens' Handicap, and darned if he didn't win it.

War Command, adjudged to have the best chance by sage N. Y. punters, finished last.

Cain Hoy's Flying Fury, the best hurdle horse in the race, finished second. Rock Cottage, a real high-class selling plater, was third, and Open Sesame, fourth.

Thinking Cap won $19,225 for Christiana Stables. The same outfit, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Lung-er, bred him.

A torrent of rain turned the track sloppy before the program opened, and that kind of footing is Thinking Cap's dish. He won the 1 3/4-mile race by 2 3/4 lengths.

By Rosemont—Camargo, by *Helio-polls, Thinking Cap has started 10 times this season. He has 4 wins and 2 thirds and earnings of $46,645. He is four years old. Earlier in the year, he won the Stymie Handicap at Belmont.

In '55, Thinking Cap brought in $74,625. His stakes wins were in the Travers and Lawrence Realization.

so literally, but not technically. The swift youngster from the West Coast got there first, but was disqualified and placed second, while Greek Game's number was put into the top slot.

Buddy was third.

Greek Game is by Olympia, from Sunday Supper, by Questionnaire. He belongs to F. W. Hooper, who bred him.

Before the Futurity, Greek Game won the Primer and Hyde Park Stakes and the Arlington Futurity. He has 5 wins and a third in 6 tries and total earnings of $199,805.

Ivan H. Parke trains the two-year-old colt. Bill Hartack rode him in the Washington Park Futurity. Shoemaker was on California Kid.

Calumet Farms' Amoret got up to win the Beverly Handicap by a neck over Sam E. Wilson Jr.'s Lady Swords. Queen Hopeful, the favorite, was third and Hen Party, fourth.

A four-year-old filly by Bull Lea, out of Mar-Kell, by *Blenheim II, Amoret earned $16,215 in her thrilling victory.

W. Hartack had the mount, and, of course, Jimmy Jones put the filly in shape for the race.

Calumet bred Amoret.

The Beverly was on August 29.

Atlantic City

The horse with the biggest price won the Ventnor Turf Handicap on September 1.

That was King Grail, which took the mile grass race by three-quarters of a length, over Sol-Hi and returned $41.60 at the betting booths.

Sunningdale was third and Piecesof-eight, fourth.

Next in line at the wire was Career Boy, the public choice.

King Grail (*Ambiorix—Blue Grail, by Blue Larkspur) had won the Choice Stakes at Monmouth, early in August, but had run poorly in the Travers at Saratoga, so few gave him consideration for the Ventnor.

The winner's share of the race at the seashore (the ocean is 14 miles away) amounted to $21,875, and brings the colt's total to $42,025. He has started only 6 times this year, has 2 wins and 1 second. Last year he ran once and won once, earning $2,600.

Erdenheim Farm Co. bred King Grail.

W. F. Mulholland trains him. Ray Mikkonen usually rides him and was up for this one.

The Ventnor is for three-year-olds.

The Home Bred Stakes (with no hyphen) on August 29 went to Ambehaving, property of the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. R. C. duPont.

The Jersey-bred two-year-old won easily by 4½ lengths. He was the favorite at even money.

Lucky George was second, Kapichan, third and Comes A Tide, fourth.

Ambehaving won the New Jersey Futurity at Monmouth in July. He shows 2 wins a second and a third in 5 starts. With the prize from the Home Bred, $6,950, his earnings add up to $24,130.

Eldon Nelson rode Ambehaving. J. M. Lee trains him and Mrs. duPont bred him.

Short Takes of Late Stakes

Colonel Mack took the Bing Crosby Handicap at Del Mar on August 25. California Thoroughbred Breeders' Association Stakes (August 27) went to Swirling Abbey.

Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Paper Tiger (right) winning the 54th running of the Saratoga Handicap at Saratoga on August 25; Mrs. Jan Burke's Dedicate, the favorite, was second. Hirsch Jacobs trains Paper Tiger, and Jockey Conn McCreary was in the irons.

Aga Khan's Golovine

Winner of the recent 18 furlong Chester Cup was the Begum Aga Khan's Golovine, a six-year-old son of Precipitation. He was ridden by young Peter Robinson, who spent the winter in California studying the methods of the chief American jockeys. Though he had only three race rides in the United States, he gained valuable experience riding morning work.

Recruit To Racing

Stephen A. Caldar, who twenty years ago went to work at Rockingham Park as a mutuel clerk after loosing everything in the bursting of the Florida real estate bubble, is currently half owner in the Coral Ridge subdivision at Ft. Lauderdale which Life Magazine recently described as the largest development of its kind in the entire world. Mr. Caldar has been building up a racing stable and bought seven yearlings at the recent Keeneland Sales. Another purchase is a mare in foal by Hyperion from Lord Derby. Mr. Caldar is currently developing a breeding and training farm near Ft. Lauderdale.

California Broodmare Of The Year

Last year the sports editors and turf writers of California named Iron Magic, the dam of Swaps, as the California broodmare of the year. Another Ellisworth mare was given the same honor this year—the 11-year-old bay mare, Feather Time by Beau Pere—Heather Time, by Time Maker who was 18 points ahead of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seley's Lady Beware, dam of Trackmaster.

Odell Buys French Colt

Mighty Mo Wins Saratoga Handicap In First Start After Year's Layoff

John E. Cooper

In one of the most exciting 'chases of the year, Montpelier's Mighty Mo captured the $10,000 added Saratoga Steeplechase Handicap here on Thursday, August 30th. Making his first start since Middleburg last fall, the seven-year-old son of Battleship was an outsider in the betting at 10 to 1, in this long two and a half mile race, but trainer Ray Woolfe had sent a thoroughly fit horse to the post, and under an excellent ride from Albert Foot, Mighty Mo won by a little more than two lengths with Carthage, Basilla, Ring o'Roses, Ancestor and Bavaria behind him in that order.

Ring o'Roses was left flat footed at the start, losing a dozen lengths, but ranged up with his field going to the far turn the first time. In the meantime, Harry Hatcher on Bavaria under 155 lbs., had gone to the front, and set a slow pace, with Mighty Mo closest, followed by a tight knot of Basilla, Ancestor, Ring o'Roses and Carthage, all under stout restraint. Continuing in this order for more than a turn of the field, a scarce seven or eight lengths separated the leader from the others. Both Bavaria and Mighty Mo stood back and fenced boldly, while in contrast, a series of bobbles by the four-year-old filly Basilla, all but unseated Scottie Riles on a number of occasions, and left her backers gasping. Coming down through the front stretch the second time, Bavaria still led the field by a narrow margin, but at this point Harry Hatcher appeared to think the winning post lay just ahead, and he steered the Brookmeade fencer over into the homestretch. Discovering his error just in the nick of time, he got Bavaria in the hunt again, but it was a costly loss of ground, and as the field rounded the clubhouse turn the last time, a large blanket would have covered the six starters. In the forefront of these Albert Foot asked Mighty Mo for a little bit, and the chestnut gelding responded by opening up a daylight lead as the field raced down the far side the last time. It was a real horse race at this point, where anything but a perfect jump could spell victory or defeat. In closest pursuit of the leader, Basilla loomed up dangerously, but several hobbles, lessened her chances, while Bavaria and Ring o'Roses, were a length or two away. Ancestor, joint top weight under 155 lbs., with Bavaria started to give way on the final back stretch run, while Jimmy Murphy still held Carthage for a late run at the leaders. Rounding the final turn, Mighty Mo carried his 138 lbs., well and under a hustling ride from Albert Foot, maintained a narrow lead, with Basilla and Ring o'Roses right behind him. Then Murphy on Carthage made his bid, passing Ancestor and then Bavaria, and as the field approached the sixteenth and final fence, it was still anybody's race. Mighty Mo jumped this one boldly about two lengths on top. Basilla in second place, again bobbled slightly, and lost her two length advantage over Ring o'Roses at this point, while Carthage on the outside was coming fast. In the run to the wire, Mighty Mo held on gamely, with Basilla and Ring o'Roses running neck and neck up to the wire, while Carthage gained on the flat to gain the runner-up position, a little less than three lengths off the winner. It was two lengths back to Basilla for third, a head in front of Ring o'Roses. Fortunately the filly garnered third money in the picture, for in the drive Ring o'Roses had laid against her pretty well and might have been disqualified for brush fences here at this meeting. In the Sun Bath, the gelded son of Annapolis was ridden by Earl Phelps, jumped straight while in between horses, then took the front end on the far turn, wore down Rebel Coat, who hung on tenaciously until the stretch, then won by three lengths with plenty in reserve. In fact Sundowner's only appearance of swerving at the fences was at the final one, where Phelps had him under restraint. While Sundowner only carried 141 lbs., in this race, and while the race was run in 3:29, five seconds off the record, the manner in which he ran moves him into serious consideration for the important fall stakes just ahead. In second place, Mrs. V. G. Cardy's Rebel Coat ran an excellent race, and easily bested Marcheast and Jet Command in that order. This race also saw the return to competition of Col. L. H. Nelles' Extra Points, a top performer in 1954. He ran well for more than a turn of the field, but then tired. With a little more conditioning he may be a factor in the weeks to come.

third money. Eight lengths up the track, Ancestor was fifth, with Bavaria, a poor last.

Over a soft course, Mighty Mo completed the distance in 5:16 2/5, well off the track record held by King Commander of 5:00 2/5.

An interesting presentation took place in the winners circle after the race, with trainer Ray Woolfe accepting the historic St. Albans Cup and a trophy from Stephen C. Clark, Jr. Also present was Eugene Finnegan, who rode the first winner of the Saratoga 'Chase, Charles Pfizer's Herculooid, fifty years ago.

Among the notable races of the week was The Sun Bath on Wednesday, at a mile and three quarters over hurdles. It resulted in a winning effort for James McHugh's crack jumper, Sundowner. Away from the races for about two years, this Rigan McKinney development unseated his rider several months ago at Delaware, then showed a decided tendency to swerve over

Monday, August 27th, Mrs. Arthur White's Blen More graduated when he bested a field of maidens at the mile and three quarter distance over hurdles. Ridden by Harry Hatcher, Blen More jumped his fences boldly, took the lead midway around and then won with something to spare despite a bobble at the final hurdle. Five lengths back, Independence took secondary honors after running close up for the entire trip. It was another length and three quarters to Moss Green, which was making his second start over hurdles, and appeared to have had a rough trip. Basil Bee was several lengths back, and had made a bold bid on the far side, but didn't have enough in the final stages. The pacemaker, for more than a mile, Junaluska, was rank in the running, and after hitting several of his hurdles stopped to a walk and was pulled up in the stretch.

of winning hurdle races, made his 1956 bow over the brush course, and under a package of only 132 lbs. withstood a long drive to cross under the wire on top by a little more than a length. The runner-up was Morris Dixon's Pine Shot, ridden by Eddie Deveau, who lodged a claim of interference against the winner for an alleged foul at the 10th jump, the far side liverpool. Coming to this fence, Hurst Park enjoyed a narrow lead. In jumping he swerved out, while Pine Shot jumped in, apparently without being bothered by the winner, so the Stewards permitted the result to stand. Third money went to Flaw a stablemate of Pine Shot, while Another Hyacinth was a distant fourth. Murt Hoey who rode Hurst Park, rode his tenth winner in this race and lost his "bug", and Harry LaMontagne lost his horse, Hurst Park being claimed for $4,000 by Guilford Dudley, Jr. Trained by Sidney Watters, Jr., this year, Hurst Park was scoring his fourth win of the year, and on one other occasion, he finished first and was moved back to second in a disqualification.

On Friday, over a well softened infield, Isadore Bieber's Basil Bee, finally broke his maiden, coming up to the wire in a driving finish two lengths on top of Mary Rumsey's Tall Mound, while W. M. Duryea's consistent Breakers Ahead (he hasn't been worse than fourth in his last nine races) was a close up third. Basil Bee's time was a very slow 3:46 1/5, more than twenty seconds off the course record, but a good example of the condition of the field here where rain has fallen in large quantities for 48 hours.

Final infield race of the meeting went to Charles Stitzer's Irish-bred, Ruby Brick, which was making his third start in this Country. Leading from flagfall to finish, Paddy Smithwick on the Walsh trained six-year-old, was never in danger, and crossed under the wire with four lengths to spare. Get Lost, the runner-up, was easily the best of the others, with Nainavah and Dormello sharing the rest of the purse in that order. Ruby Brick's time for the about one mile and three quarters over hurdles was a very fast 3:28 1/5, over a course which had seen more rain since the previous day when Basil Bee took 3:46 1/5 to run the same distance. Ruby Brick was brought here by Michael G. Walsh for the account of his owner, and has won both on the flat and over hurdles in Ireland.

KENTUCKY

Postillion's Sister

Robert J. Kleberg, Jr.'s King Ranch Farm, Lexington, has a yearling full sister to Postillion, the Bold Venture horse who recently scored a 63-5 upset in the $7,500-added Premier's British Columbia Championship in Canada. The dam, Igual, who has also produced Assault to Bold Venture's cover, was not bred this spring.

Postillion raced for King Ranch until two years ago, when, as a four-year-old, he was sold privately to M. and Mrs. C. E. McDonough. They lost him in February for $9,000 on a claim put in by F. M. Clark, Jr.

Endicott, Carmichael Move

Howard W. Endicott, Manager of Miss Mildred Woolwine's White Oaks Farm, Lexington, Ky., for the past half a dozen years, last week resigned that position to assume similar duties at Dan and Ada Rice's Danada Farm, where he replaces Olin Gentry. The latter recently resigned to become General Manager of the racing and breeding interests of John W. Galbreath's Darby Dan Farms.

Meanwhile, Ed Carmichael resigned as Manager of the Lexington branch of Darby Dan to replace Mr. Endicott at White Oaks.

Incidentally, the three Thoroughbred nurseries involved in this managerial trading—Danada, Darby Dan and White Oaks—all lie along the Old Frankfort Pike northwest of Lexington and little more than a mile apart.

Splendid Bargains

Brilliance, dam of the recent Princess Pat Stakes winner Splendored, is now owned by J. W. Burton, who bought her for $1,100 at the 1954 Keeneland Fall Sales from Mrs. John D. Hertz's Stoner Creek Stud, Paris. Mr. Burton, owner of Starvation Hill Farm, Lancaster, reports she is in foal to To Market.

At the same auction Stoner Creek sold Splendored, then a weanling, to Donald McKellar for $1,000. The $50,000-added Princess Pat brought the Double Jay filly's earnings to $84,450.

Red Hannigan

Red Hannigan, who beat Nashua in the Carter Handicap this year, is being shipped to Charles A. Asbury's Hedgewood Farm, Lexington, Kentucky, where he will enter the stud. The son of *Heliopolis—War Damsel, by Man o'War, was bred by the estate of Samuel D. Riddle and was sold at the 1952 Keeneland Summer Sales for $11,000 to the Woodley Lane Farm owned by Steven B. Wilson, Lafayette Ward and Joe Straus. He won at two, three and four including the Providence Stakes and the Roseben and Bay Shore Handicaps.

Tulyar's Only Sister

Andromeda, the dam of the Tehran colt sold at Saratoga to C. T. Chenery, Doswell, Va. for $29,000 by the Newstead Farm of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Hardin of Upperville, Virginia, was purchased as a yearling by Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of the Headley Stud, near Newbury. In 1951, a rather small filly by Stardust out of Neocracy, was offered at the First October Sales. Although it was announced as she entered the ring that her half-brother by Tehran had that afternoon won the Kineton Nursery Stakes, she was knocked down the syndicated sire High Treason. Eastern Grandeur was recently flown to this country with her chestnut colt by Aureol, the Queen's stallion. She is in foal to Never Say Die. The third member of the party was the 4-year-old Hypermnestra (Hyperion—Brumeux by *Teddy), in foal to Wilwyn.

Aga Khan Buys Saratoga Fillies

At the recent Saratoga Sales, Major Cyril Hall bought for the account of the Aga Khan from the Nydris Stud, Esmond, Virginia, a bay filly by Shut Out—Tien Lan, by Blue Larkspur; from Old Westport Place and Laguna Seca Ranch, a chestnut filly by Sun Again—Grand League; and from Bert-ram N. Linder, a bay filly by Daumier—Imprint. The fillies were shipped to France in the care of John Alexander of Milford, Ireland. They will be trained by Alex Head.

to Mr. Miller at 520 guineas. Mr. Miller's good fortune can be appreciated by the fact that this same half-brother within twelve months had become the greatest money winner in the history of the British turf and that his purchase is so far the only filly to be produced by Neocracy.

VIRGINIA

Springbury Imports

In the autumn of 1954, Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh of the Springbury Farm, Berryville, Va., made a particularly fortunate purchase from Captain Peter McCall of the chestnut mare, Eastern Grandeur (Gold Bridge—China Maiden). This mare is the dam of Star of India, which topped the English Free Handicap in 1955, and of of the Coronation Cup at Epsom and the Eclipse Stakes at Sandown, has been syndicated for $184,000 and will stand next season at Sir John Musker's Shadwell Stud at Thetford, Norfolk, England.

Relic Transferred From France To England

The American bred stallion Relic, purchased a few years ago by the French breeder Francois Dupre, has recently been syndicated in England and will stand at Bob Colling's stud at Thornton Le Street, Yorkshire. Forty shares were sold for $7,000 each, Mr. Dupre retaining the largest number. Now 11-years-old Relic has done well in France and sired Buisson Ardent, the winner of this year's French 2,000 Guineas.

7 Imports From Dublin

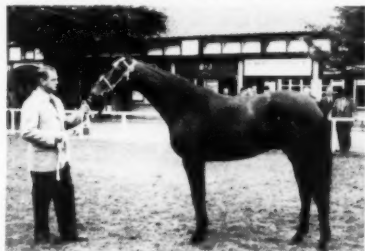

A four engine Pan-American cargo plane settle down at Idlewild airport the morning of August 25th after a trans-oceanic flight from Ireland carrying the seven new purchases of Morton W. "Cappy" Smith. This exceptional group of conformation hunters was acquired by Cappy at the recent Dublin Horse Show. Their records and individuality as top show horses reads like the social register.

GLEN HOUSE

Glen House, a beautiful 3-year-old chestnut gelding by Rejoice, out of Princess Jacqueline, by J'Accours, was the winner of the Grand Champion Green Hunter award and also champion Thoroughbred Young Horse out of a class of 37 entries at the Dublin Show.

The other six magnificent imports which distinguished themselves at Dublin are as follows: Late Fly, a 3-year-old bay gelding by Whitsuntide, out of Maybank by Salmon Pool. This youngster was 2nd in the Thoroughbred 3-year-old class behind Glen House. Santos Hazard, a 3-year-old brown gelding by Danger, out of Santos by Sandyman was 3rd in the 3-year-old Thoroughbred class and prior to Dublin was champion at Clomel and Balmoral. Clare County is a brown gelding, 3-yr.-old by Copernicus, by Solaris, who won the other than Thoroughbred class and the Pembroke Cup and was also reserve grand champion Young Hunter. Sweet William, a bay gelding 16.2 4-year-old by Headway, dam by

SWEET WILLIAM

Standfast, was the winner of the lightweight conformation hunter championship and of the lightweight side-saddle class. Still another for the show ring is a gray gelding 16.2, 3-year-old by Daunt, out of Blue Bell, by Silver Bell. Last, but in no wise least, in this consignment is a 3-year-old bay gelding Running Star, by J'Accours, out of Four Star, by Tetratema. Grand dam is the Zenith, by Trencendant. This horse is a half-brother to 4 winners, 2 of them stakes winners including The Cob. You will remember the Zenith is the dam of the stakes horse Olympic Zenith.

These horses are most certainly destined to make a great impression on American horse showing and racing.

Virginia Foxhound Club Show

Orange County Takes Major Share of Awards In A Rather Disappointing Entry List

The Tenth Annual Hound Show of the Virginia Foxhound Club was held Saturday, August 25th, through the kindness of Mrs. Marion duPont Scott, who provided the facilities of her Montpelier Estate near Orange, Virginia. The complete list of classes including four special classes for packs which had not shown at Bryn Mawr since 1952 were carefully and competently judged by Jackson Boyd, Esq., ex-MFH and Sherman P. Haight, Jr. MFH. Entries for the four special classes were received from the Fairfax, Old Dominion, Rappahannock and Warrenton Hunts—a rather disappointing entry, particularly since the class for unentered bitches failed to fill and was cancelled.

Charles G. Turner, M.F.H. with the unentered hound, Orange County Bagman (Oxford '54—Bluebell '52) Champion American Foxhound of the 10th Annual Show of the Virginia Foxhound Club, held August 25 at Montpelier, the estate of Mrs. Marion duPont Scott.

Many of the smaller hunts with limited staffs seemed to find it difficult to prepare their hounds for the show ring and to get ready for cub hunting at the same time. George Cole Scott MFH, Secretary-Treasurer of the Virginia Foxhound Club, is consequently sending out a questionnaire to all Virginia Masters inquiring whether they would prefer a date in late May, following the example of the Litchfield Hound Show, which this year, advanced its date with great success.

Exhibits in the open classes came from Blue Ridge, Middleburg, Orange County and Potomac. The Orange County sent a particularly strong contingent which included over thirty hounds and came home with most of the silverware. Exceptions were the classes for single dog entered, won by Middleburg's Rosalind '51. Orange County Oxford '54, much fancied by various judges during the past few years, met with less favor at Montpelier, being placed second in the Get of Sire Class to the patriarch Bantom '47, now ten-years-old. The judges stressed alertness and gaiety in the stallion classes, thereby reversing some of their earlier placings.

Orange County uncovered a very well balanced and racy looking unentered hound in Bagman by Oxford '54 out of Bluebell '52, who successively won the class for unentered single dogs, best unentered hound, champion American dog hound and champion American foxhound of the show. If he continues to develop along his present lines, he should make quite a name for himself. Due credit should be given to George Cole Scott, Joint Master of the Blue Ridge Hunt and Secretary-Treasurer of the V. F. C., who is largely responsible for the revival of the show last year and for its continuing success.

SHOW STORIES

DEEP RUN HUNT CLUB

For the third consecutive week fair skies and pleasant weather prevailed for the Deep Run Hunt Club Horse Show, the third show on the Big Virginia show circuit. The show was held at the Hunt Club farm near Manakin, Va. Miss Frances Newbill and her hard-working committee did a wonderful job resulting in one of the best shows of the season. All the exhibitors and spectators felt that the outside course was one of the best in Virginia. It was a half mile long over beautifully rolling country with natural hunting fences...which both riders and horses appeared to enjoy as there were many excellent rounds in every class.

This year there were the largest number of entries in every division in the show's history. Nearly every large stable in the east was represented. The green conformation division was well filled with quality. Mrs. Winston Guest's handsome bay colt, Camada, won the green model and, after turning in nice rounds over fences, was champion. Mrs. Warner Atkins was reserve.

The first two horses in the conformation, model, Waiting Home and Jack Blandford, were both injured the first day of the show and had to be withdrawn from further competition. Lakelawn Farms' Sun Dial, ridden by Ed Daniels, turned in some beautiful trips to become conformation champ. Mrs. J. Deane Rucker's always consistent gray Spanish Mint was reserve.

Fairview Farms left its mark in the working hunter division when their Bronze Wing was ridden to championship for the second straight week. His beautiful way of moving really showed up over the long outside course. Mr. and Mrs. K.M. Bruce's always consistent Tuffy was reserve after winning the stake. Always in contention and in the ribbons in nearly every class were Lakelawn Farms' Little Trip and Kimberton Hills Farms' Kimberling. The green working division was the biggest division in the show. Horse after horse turned in excellent performances and in these classes the small mistakes were the important ones. Barbara Pease's Rule of Thumb was champion with Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Mann's Riviera Royal reserve. The jumper division was well filled and competition was keen. The courses were varied and to the delight of the spectators there were many exciting jump-offs. There were so many clean horses on the first jump-off that horses were disqualified in two classes when they had accumulated two faults. Bernie Mann's appropriately named Riviera Wonder was the jumper champion after winning several classes including the stake. He is one of the best mannered yet sensational jumpers in the show ring today. He looks and performs so much like his famous sister Circus Rose. Raymond Burr rode Kimberton Hills Farms' Kimberton Vike to the jumper reserve. John S. Pettibone's good looking Hapgood added another 2-year-old laurel to his already studded crown. G.B.M.

offer the thrill of show ring competition to children who cannot own their own mounts.

Most of the classes were planned for the rent-a-horse riders of the Chicago area; however, there were also privately owned mounts, the competition being open to all amateur riders.

Marcia Davis won the coveted Sun-Times Equitation Trophy in competition against forty-two top riders. In order to qualify for this class, you must previously have won first, second or third place in classes sponsored by the Sun-Times at outlying horse shows during the 1956 outdoor season. Lorna Hansen, last year's Champion presented the trophy to the new Champion.

This year the horse show was televised for the first time, showing the jumpers, Knock, Down and Out class, and the Children's Equitation class for riders, 10 years and under.

The Sun-Times deserves much credit in promoting this show. When it first started 8 years ago, it was a one day show with about 8 or 10 entrants in each class. Now it has mushroomed into a two day show, with some classes having 80 or more entrants, needing to be broken down into two divisions, and the last class running into darkness. M.L.S.

WE GOOFED!

That is, we and the weatherman did. He said we were going to have nice weather for our horse show on August 5th, but at 6 o'clock that morning the heavens opened and a million tons of water dropped down on the show ring.

It was evident that by show time a duck wouldn't be able to take off for the first jump and as far as getting a horse van anywhere near the grounds a circus-trained flea couldn't have pulled one of his little wagons through the muck.

So, regretfully, we had to notify as many exhibitors as we could reach at that late time that it was impossible to go on with the show and to set another date. That date is SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 22nd.

Our show is a fun show and not only that but here you see some of the best horses in the Old Dominion. There is ample parking and food and they are both good.

There are divisions for ponies, junior riders, jumpers and working hunters being judged by the Messrs. Jack Prestage and Carl Furr.

You'll have a mighty good time at this show whether you are showing or just looking over the fence.

You all come, hear?

GONE AWAY with WINN

WINN Prescribed for the horse in training to allow him to replace used-up energy quickly, aid in muscle development and nervous system development. Ideal for stallions, too.

PROPHENE-PLUS Prescribed for low-level de-worming program. Destroys strongyles but builds up blood which is weakened by the phenothiazine. Combines phenothiazine and Pro-Vi-Min.

PRO-VI-MIN Especially designed for growing horses on the farm. It is a combination of WINN, plus vitamins and minerals—all in necessary quantities.

SILVER FOX

According to Charley Hatton, "The dusky Nearctic has a good deal of gray hair at the end of his tail which made him look a little like a silver fox pursued by a pack of hounds when he won the Saratoga Special."

GARDEN STATE SALES

One hundred and fifty-two Thoroughbred yearlings will be sold at public auction at Garden State Park on the nights of Monday, September 24th and Tuesday, September 25th, it was announced today by Walter H. Donovan, executive vice-president of the Garden State Racing Association.

The sale will be conducted by the Fasig-Tipton Co. Donovan cited the list of consignors and the breeding of many of the consignees as examples of the growing interest in the sale at Garden State. This is the third annual September yearling sale at the track. A public showing of the yearlings will be held at the track Sunday afternoon, September 23rd.

Carter Thornton, of Paris, Ky., heads the list of consignors with 15 to be put on the block. John E. Hughes, of Chicago, is sending 11 to the venue. Woodlawn Farm, Lexington, Ky., will be represented by ten yearlings, while Country Life Farm, Bel Air, Md., is sending eight, and Mill Creek Stable, Mt. Jackson, Va., and Nanolen Farm, Collegeville, Pa., each will be represented by seven. Other consignors include:

Belvoir Farm, The Plains, Va.; Anna W. Bockius, Upperco, Md.; James F. Bragg, Long Island City, N.Y.; Cabin Farm, Leesburg, Va.; Estate of W.H. Cane, Jersey City, N.J.; M.K. Clark, Lexington; Mrs. Ervin D. Coots, Caledonia, N.Y.; Leo W. Davis, Rochester, N.Y.; Jack Delaney, Shrewsbury, N.J.; L.W. Donovan, Richmond, Va.; Dr. Carl T. Drifus, Alexandria, Va.; Peter Drinkwater, Front Royal, Va.; Mrs. Kenneth J. Edwards, Warrenton, Va.; Mr. & Mrs. Paul C. Ellis, Keedysville, Md.; David O. Evans, Hillside, N.J.; Justin Funkhouser, New York City; Mrs. Robert L. Gerry, Delhi, N.Y.; Mr. & Mrs. Sidney W. Glass, West Chester, Pa.

Harry F. Guggenheim and R. A. Alexander III, New York City; Green View Farm, Highland, Md.; Mrs. Lawrence Illoway, Paoli, Pa.; Interstate Development Co., Inc., Hillside, N.J.; E.J. Larkin, Philadelphia; General and Mrs. Charles B. SARATOGA SALES OF

HORSES IN TRAINING

Topping the sale of horses in training conducted by the Fasig-Tipton Company on the morning of Saturday, August 18th, was Noor's Image consigned by the estate of Meyer J. Kaplan and purchased by the Cromwell Bloodstock Agency, reputedly for John A. Bell, Jr., for $38,000. W. Haggin Perry of Middleburg, Virginia, paid $31,000 for the 3-year-old King Somali from the consignment of steeplechasers by L.R. Troiano and Mickey Walsh. King Commander, champion steeplechaser of 1955, went to Frank McVey, Agent, for $10,000. Colorado Prince from the same consignment brought $21,000 from D.M. Smithwick, Agent.

TURF WRITER'S DINNER

At the 20th annual dinner of the New York Turf Writers Association at Saratoga on August 23rd, plaques were presented to George D. Widener, A.B. Hancock, Jr., Carey Winfrey and Willie Hartack for their contributions to racing in 1955.

REMODELLING JOB

Miss E.R. Sears of Boston is rebuilding and remodelling the old Bradley barn in the Oklahoma section of the Saratoga race track.

ARCARO AT THE MOVIES

After Dave Erb decided to ride Needles rather than Swoon's Son in the American Derby, Eddie Arcaro got the mount on the latter. Inasmuch as he had never ridden the horse before, he spent the entire morning looking over re-runs of film patrol movies of Swoon's Son's prior races. It is now history that Swoon's Son won and that Needles ran fifth.

MONK'S SHOE OVER JUMPS

Monk's Shoe, the 4-year-old chestnut colt by The Cobbler--Abbeylex which Mrs. J.R.H. Thouron obtained from the Hasty House Farms consignment in the sale of horses in training at Saratoga on August 18th, is to be converted into a steeplechaser.

SHOW RING TO RACE TRACK

Steve Boland, who is training a successful string at Atlantic City, will be remembered as the man who used to ride and condition hunters and jumpers for Mrs. Bernard Gimbel.

BRITISH ENTRIES

FOR TEMPLE GWATHMEY

The following item appears on page 3 of the July 28th issue of Horse and Hound: "America is not the happiest of hunting grounds for racehorse owners in this country - and this is particularly so for those with steeplechasers in their stables. But quite a few of those who have been racing in the States and others who might have gone had their chances of success been brighter are looking at the picture anew.

"The magnet for their eyes is the Temple Gwathmey Chase, which is to be run over 2 1/2 miles at Belmont Park on October 17. A handicap, this race now carries $50,000 added money and will be worth $40,000 (about 14,300 pounds) to the winner, with $10,000 going to the second horse, $6,000 to the third and $4,000 to the fourth. Entries have to be in by October 1 and the cost to nominate and start a horse will be $575 (about 205 pounds).

"Being the richest steeplechase in the world, the Gwathmey will naturally attract the cream of American chasers and several top flight performers from overseas countries, so a win for Britain would not only handsomely reimburse the owner for his endeavours but do a power of good for the prestige of our jumpers."

A HUNDRED GRAND

Seventy years ago the racing world was awe-struck by the prowess of Miss Woodford, the first $100,000 winner in America, and Iroquois, American-bred Epsom Derby winner who had earned an equivalent amount in England. Today we are similarly impressed by Citation and Nashua, each of which has earned over $1,000,000 by the pound of their hooves.

It is now possible for a horse to win $100,000 or the greater part of it, on any of more than a score of afternoons. With the Washington Park Handicap on September 3; the United Nations Handicap at Atlantic City on September 15; The Garden State on October 27, and the Washington D. C. at Laurel on November 12, there will have been 26 races worth $100,000 or more in added money run this season.

The first $100,000 race in the United States was the 1923 International Special at Belmont Park which saw Harry F. Sinclair's Zev beat England's Papyrus. The first regularly scheduled stakes to which the track added $100,000 to the nomination and starting fees was instituted in 1926 at old Agua Caliente by James N. Coffroth and was run through 1929.

Santa Anita Park put the $100,000 added race back into the picture in 1935 with the inauguration of the Santa Anita Handicap, and in 1945 made the Santa Anita Derby the first $100,000 added event for 3-year-olds. The Triple Crown events, the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes promptly followed suit and today the Kentucky Derby is worth $125,000 added.

Five stakes joined the roster of "100 granders" this year. Bowie boosted the John B. Campbell Memorial from $75,000; Hollywood Park doubled the added value of the American Handicap; Atlantic City inaugurated an invitation event, the Atlantic City Handicap, and raised the United Nations Handicap to $100,000 and Laurel upped the Washington D. C. International.

PRINCE CORTAULD

Prince Cortauld, fourth on the all-time money winning list of Thoroughbred earnings in Australia and New Zealand, is the first member of the world-wide field being assembled for the $100,000 Washington D. C. International at Laurel on Veteran's Day, November 12.

In addition to being the initial entrant, Prince Cortauld will be the first Australian horse to compete in the mile and a half invitational grass classic since its inauguration in 1952.

Now a six-year-old, the rangy brown son of Sun King (Hyperion) and Capricious has a four-year racing record of 25 wins, 10 seconds and 7 thirds in 52 starts in races from six furlongs to a mile and sixfurlongs.

HORSES FROM IRELAND

Thoroughbred horses were the leading article of export from Ireland to the United States, according to the Irish Export Promotion Board, during the fiscal year ending March 31st. The value of horses coming to this country was $1,961,316 representing more than 24 per cent of the total exports. This is an increase of over $200,000 as compared to last year.

ing. There was no whipper-in galloping about and perhaps hitting the wrong hound, but the result of singling out the hound which really had done wrong and giving him or her a good "sterning" was that, after one or two corrections like this, if a rabbit, for instance, crossed their path front hounds would turn round and look up at me as much as to say, "I'm not going."

"Just after we started cubhunting we were drawing some rough woodlands near the Wheatland country when I saw a big stag get up almost among the pack. He crossed a ride some way from where I was watching. I gave a quiet whistle; hounds looked my way and didn't take the slightest notice of the stag, who cantered away in the opposite direction. This gave me great satisfaction."

Sincerely yours,

Hark Farrant

English Deer Park

Dear Sir:

What you say about the English deer parks reminds me of a story told to me by William Thompson who was an English huntsman employed by my father for years. He told me that when he was whipper-in for a pack in England—I think it was the Vale of White Horse—all during the summer, the huntsman repeatedly took the pack to a deer park, would let them see the deer and then rate them. They even became so well disciplined as to deer that the huntsman could gallop after the deer and then pull up and all the pack would stop with him. In spite of all this, during the following hunting season the very first time that a wild doe deer crossed the line in front of the pack the entire pack took off after it and ruined the day's hunting for them.

Sincerely yours,

Gilbert Mather, President

MERANO STEEPLECHASE

Highlight of the Italian steeplechase season is the $34,000 Gran Premio Merano at three miles and one furlong run in conjunction with the national lottery. Although won frequently by French horses in recent years, the Italians are confident that Spagasso will be able to repel invaders when the race is run next October.

WORK TABS

Sometime ago the authorities at Hollywood Park arranged to identify horses with work tabs during morning works for the benefit of the clockers and the race-going public. The system has recently been adopted at Arlington and Washington Parks in the Chicago area. In consequence a much larger number of works have been recorded at these tracks. The new system has met with some objections from the older generation of horsemen, but in general has been well received.

Second National Rally of U. S. Pony Clubs, Inc.

H. Stewart Treviranus

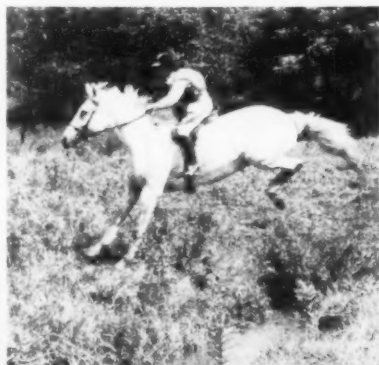

SOMERSET HILLS WINS B AND C DIVISIONS

As the second National Pony Club Rally came to a close on August 23rd, at the Elkridge-Harford Hunt Club in Maryland, very tired but happy Pony Club members prepared to lead their horses and gear and to return to their respective homes. Everyone appeared to have learnt a lot, to have made new friends, and to be ambitious to try their skill again another year.

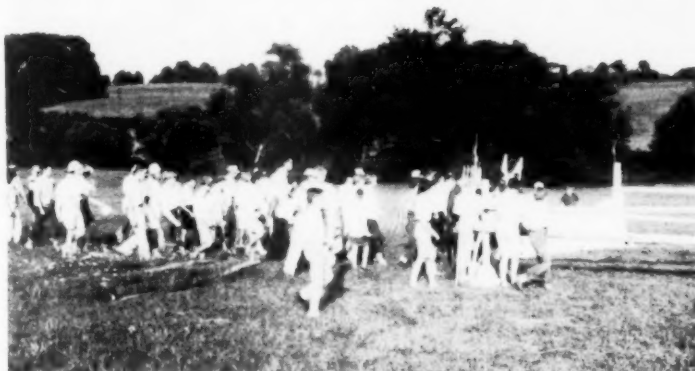

Twelve teams, some from as far away as Illinois and Tennessee, had won the right to represent their region at Regional Rallies held earlier this summer. There were nine C Teams, two B Teams and one A Team, the latter competing as individuals. A total of 36 horses and 54 members, including 17 helpers and non-riding captains, were quartered at the Hunt Club.

The sportsmanship and outstanding conduct displayed throughout the Rally made some express the wish that more of this same spirit could be found at horse shows!

Dr. John Gadd conducted the written test of Veterinary Knowledge. Ten questions for the C's, fifteen for the B's and twenty for the A's. Typical questions were: Distinguish between ring bone and side bone, and; Outline the symptoms of azoturia; and Give your treatment for laceration in the pastern, before calling the veterinarian! Marks proved to be above average, with the teams from Wayne-DuPage and Blue Ridge sharing top position.

Carol Hoffman, a member of the Winning "B" Somerset Hills (N. J.) team.

Competitors walk the Stadium jumping course at the National Rally of the United States Pony Clubs held at the Elkridge Harford Hunt Club, Monkton, Md., Aug. 21-23.

The first light of dawn saw members scurrying over to the stables to tend to their horses and ponies which, for the duration of the Rally were in their sole care. To enforce this rule, the stable area was off-limits to all adults save judges. By breakfast time, everyone had become personally acquainted with the Chairman of the Committee, the indefatigable Mrs. Dean Bedford.

The competition consisted of the following phases: Foxhunting, Veterinary Knowledge and Horsemanship, 150 points each, and Dressage, Cross-Country, Stadium Jumping and Stable Management, 300 points each. The Riding tests are patterned after the Three-Day-Event and the entire competition is particularly designed to determine a Pony Club member's standing as a horseman and horsemaster. The Stable-Management phase was judged throughout the Rally, being largely scored by demerits for failing to live up to the high standard laid down. To the consternation of many members, the state of their own living quarters was also taken into consideration. To assist with "stables" each team had a helper. Some teams also sported non-riding team captains, mostly Associate members. The two last-named were judged as individuals and wrote the written tests as well as being scored in the Stable Management.

The rain had not let up by nine o'clock the first morning when, with the three judges in position, Patricia Donovan of the Blue Ridge Hunt C Team entered the dressage arena. The short arena was used, as it is for all the very elementary tests. The test for the C Teams consisted of eleven consecutive movements. Points were also awarded for general impression, impulsion and obedience of the horse, as well as position, use of aids and harmony between horse and rider. B Teams executed a more advanced test, including leg-yielding movements and voltes.

Most performances were tactfully ridden and were technically correct. But members and instructors alike would do well to remember that it is better to show a horse which is keen, alive and imbued with the forward spirit, rather than a lifeless beast with mechanical perfection.

LEGS! The principal aid of the horseman, and yet how few used them at all. It may be the fault lies with the instructors who themselves do not know the role of legs and their effect on the quarters. Presumably all competitors know the value of warming up before an event and yet how few gave their horses the same advantage. A most pleasing test was that ridden by Ann Alexandre of the Somerset Hills C Team who was rewarded with individual high marks for her commendable effort. Many varied bits were noticed, because the Committee did not specifically ask for only one, the snaffle (without the dropped noseband). It is natural to assume that in the future most horses participating will be green and should be shown in the snaffle.

When all scores were in the C Team from Wayne-DuPage was in the lead with Somerset Hills only five points behind. Subsequently all teams walked the Cross-Country course, with somewhat mixed feelings. For those members with hunting experience, such a course was strictly fun. After Stables and dinner that night, Mr. Bedford showed movies of the Three Day Event at Windsor, 1955. A lecture on fox-hunting followed, during which the correct answers for the test were read out, the Cheshire Team getting a perfect score. Lights-out at 9:30 was most welcome.

Great activity in the stable area abounded as the hour for the Cross-Country phase drew near. Finally, at four minute intervals, they were off. A B member would cover the first half mile at a walk, the second at trot, arriving at the start of the Cross-Country with the horse well limbered up. The course was eminently fair, well marked and laid out with imagination. 16 obstacles covered the 2 1/2 mile course, and included a cordwood pile, a brook with a sheer drop and 7 ft. wide, several coops and post and rails, through several pieces of water and some bog, a white stile, fallen trees with an awkward approach, a Trakehner-type obstacle with water and to the finish over a snake fence.

Many arrived at the finish with their horses blowing and quite fatigued. Three teams, Radnor, Somerset Hills and Middle Tennessee II, turned in perfect scores. At the conclusion of this phase Somerset Hills moved into the lead and held onto it, both in the C and B Divisions.

General Tupper Cole, as chief judge, cited Patricia Donovan for outstanding sportsmanship in reporting a disobedience she incurred which the fence judge missed, when she was but 2 points behind the individual high score. A visit to the kennels followed and later all walked the Stadium Jumping course. Miss Barbara Kemp gave a resume of the dressage event and General Cole commented on the Cross Country Phase.

At 6:15 the last morning, hounds met at the Club, while all competitors were invited to join Mrs. Bedford and follow hounds.

The Stadium Jumping course was patterned after that used at Stockholm this year for the Three Day Event, with all its many changes of direction, and complete with pen. No two fences were in line, even the in and out being out of alignment. The Allowed Time had the desired effect of an even pace throughout, much to the enjoyment of the horses. The competitors seem to understand fully the procedure followed in international competitions, complete with the salute to the judge. All seemed to revel in the amount of room between fences. Again Somerset Hills C and Middle Tennessee II teams turned in faultless rounds and are much to be commended for their consistency.

The prize-giving after lunch was somewhat delayed owing to the intricate scoring system which was most ably handled by Mr. P.S. Gaither of Boston, Mass. Amid cheers the two teams from Somerset Hills, N.J., were given their trophies, having ably demonstrated their all-around ability.

Montreal Horsemanship Horse Trials For 1956

By Dorothy H. Hewitt

Excellent weather prevailed for the Montreal Horsemanship Club's fourth annual Horse Trials, held again this year on the farm of Mrs. Leslie Wallis, Hudson Heights, Quebec. The events provided excellent sport and proved that this type of competition, so popular in Europe, has definitely come to stay in Canada.

In order to encourage new competitors each of the three phases, dressage, cross country and stadium jumping could be entered as an individual contest and a great many riders took advantage of this opportunity. The Horse Trials were, as usual, divided into three sections—for open horses, novice riders and green horses.

Mrs. George Jacobsen, on Dinah, receiving the Baumgarten Challenge Cup for the Open Combined Training Event from Mrs. Leslie Wallis at the Montreal Horsemanship Trials, Hudson Heights, Que., Canada.

The dressage was held on the first day and the two tests of novice and medium standards, were well ridden by all contestants.

A truly magnificent cross country course was built by Mrs. Wallis and Mr. Tjerk Vanderplaat, over two miles of hilly, wooded country, consisting of solid, massive jumps—such as a log pile, open ditch, trakehner, water ditch, Irish bank and drop fence. Horses and riders thoroughly enjoyed it. The Stadium jumping was over a tricky, winding course, where the horses had really to be in hand.

Dinah, owned and ridden by Mrs. George Jacobsen won all three phases of the Open Horse Trials and captured the coveted Baumgarten Challenge Cup with ease. Balmaghie, with Miss Dionne Appleton beat the other competitors with two magnificents rounds in the cross country and stadium jumping and came a good second. Mr. N. Adam, on the talented youngster Taboo, had no difficulty in winning the division for Green horses and the Slofok Trophy.

Dr. ad Mrs. G. R. McCall's Halloween with Daphne Louison up took the Henshaw Trophy for Novice riders. The Mann Trophy for the best Canadian Bred horse was also won by Halloween.

Thirteen year old Lawrence Gagnon made an excellent debut when he placed first and second in the novice dressage and won the novice jumping.

Pedro and Diana Kann, with Joe McCarthy up, won the open cross country and open stadium jumping respectively for Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Porter. Mr. T. Vanderplaat and Waltzing Matilda won the 'B' Dressage test.

Judges for the events were Col. Stephen Baitner and Mr. Peter Wolfe-Taylor.

Otter Hounds Provide Good Sport Through Summer Months In Cork

Stanislaus Lynch

Opera Houses and Otterhounds make strange bed-fellows yet it is outside the Opera House that the Cork City Otterhounds meet each Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, during the summer months. The Club, though small, is well organized. Provided it can guarantee to hold a minimum of four meets per month, it will be provided with a special bus to and from meets by Coras Iompar Eireann (Irish Transport Company).

"Do you know what I'm going to tell you?" said my guide, in a Cork accent that must have derived it's undulating intonations from the switchback streets of that friendly Munster Capital. "There's Otter hounds in Cork would pull the arms out of you when they near a bus-stop. They think they should be going off for a day's hunting!"

I often heard of being in "a hunting atmosphere" but until I got into a specially charter bus packed to capacity with jolly otter-hunters, 6 1/2 couples of big shaggy otter-hounds, a few Scarteen black-and-tan Kerry Beagles, a few fox-hounds, and about 15 varminty terriers, I never knew the literal meaning of the phrase!

It was one of the jolliest bus-rides I ever experienced. I don't know whether there were more men or dogs in the bus, and I was beginning to think the dogs would take complete control, for they were on the seats, under the seats, and packed tightly in between the seats!

There were a few truculent growls, and in a flash a dog-fight started! I was seated about mid-way up the bus. The bedlam in the corridor overflowed on to seats and under seats and I suddenly realised that I could hardly be in a more awkward spot!

However, a Cork accent that brooked no opposition brought order to impending chaos. Then I saw something new. The terriers were lifted one by one, not roughly but with the dexterous efficiency of good handlers and placed in the luggage grids above our heads. There they perched, as pleased as punch, two rows of mischievous heads looking down on us from both sides of the bus.

Our bus stopped at Dripsey Castle Gate and we drew along the Dripsey river past the derelict bridge of the disused Cork-Muskerry Railroad, to Clonmoyle House. We worked up through a series of lovely glens that were ablaze with golden gorse and drenched in the perfume of fresh-blossomed whitethorn. Then past the towering uprights of Leader's folly, a local and I think derogatory name for what should be a proud symbol of an early pioneer in land irrigation.

In Oldcastle Glen, Snowball, a jet black terrier, and Bubbles, a tan-and-white terrier-dachshund showed interest in an otter holt, but the hounds were unenthusiastic. Up near Dunamore Bridge, Marquis, a pure-bred English hound from the Wye Valley Otter Hunt, spoke to a stale drag, but although Bran, Punter and Placid, three pure home-breds, did their best we could make no progress.

We then went cross-country to the Daisheen River and hounds spoke at a gaping hole in a riverside wall, but although we saw comparatively fresh fishbone-decorated evidence of Otters we had no excitement. The huntsmen were bitterly disappointed because I had a blank day. They assured me that had I been out at Waterloo, two meets previous, I would have had the hunt of my life; when hounds worked up to their otter for 45 minutes, found him, hunted him for nearly an hour and a half, forced him to forsake the river and take to open country, where they bowled him over.

Warrenton Edges Out Maryland In 4-3 Game

By Jacquelyne Forbes

On Sunday August 26 the Warrenton Polo Club played host to the Maryland Polo Team at W. E. Schluse Meyer's Broadview Farm.

The Warrenton Club lost no time in racking up it's first goal, for less than 60 seconds after the game had started John Gulick drove the ball well in to the Maryland territory and with a nearside forehand made the goal. With the first chukker nearing its climax Warrenton's Mary Gulick, using an offside forehand shot, placed the ball neatly between the uprights.

The second period saw Warrenton's Bill Gulick receive a pass from Buzz Rogers, only to loose it to Maryland's Frank Willson, but seconds later he took the ball again and passed it to John Hopwell who drove it through the uprights. Thus at the end of the second it was Warrenton 3 Maryland 0.

In the third chukker Maryland's Frank Willson took a pass from Riggs Jones and took it down the field to make the first goal for his team.

The fourth period was played at a little harder pace with Maryland's Herb Jones making it pritty hot for the Warrenton team. Maryland's Fred Cohler was also in there keeping the Warrenton goals down almost to nill. With seconds to play, however, Warrenton's Bill Gulick, using a nearside backhand, made the fourth goal for his team.

The fifth chukker saw the Maryland team begin to come from behind with a goal by Fred Cohler.

In the sixth Warrentons' Nicky Arundel passed the ball to John Hopwell. He lost it to Maryland's Doug Nichell who drove it well into the Warrenton territory. Riggs Jones of the Maryland team scored the last goal, making the final score 4 to 3.

Washington Polo Club Ties Warrenton At 4-4

By Jacquelyne Forbes

Virginia Polo enthusiasts witnessed one of the most exciting games of many a year when the Washington Polo Club met the Warrenton Polo Club on August 19. The game took place at Mr.

and Mrs. William Schluse Meyer's Broadview Farm, home of the famed Virginia Gold Cup.

From the first chukker the game moved at a high rate of speed with Mary Gulick of the Warrenton Team taking the ball well into Washington territory. With a spectacular back shot Blister Beall started the ball back toward the center of the field thus killing the possibility of a goal for the Warrenton Team.

In the second chukker John Hopwell made the first goal of the game for the Warrenton team and just minutes

In the last minute of the 5th chukker Washington's John Keeler put his team in the lead with one goal.

In the sixth chukker, with 2 minutes to play, Warrenton's Buz Rogers and Bill Gulick took the ball right into Washingtons territory with Bill Gulick making the all important goal for the Warrenton team.

A sudden death period was played but at the end of five minutes with the score still 4 to 4 both teams decided that it would be unfair to ask any more of their ponies.

After the game the Washington Club was entertained at a buffet supper given by the Warrenton Club at the Jockey Club House at Broadview.

later Harry Willson tied the score.

The third chukker saw Don Bradley of the Washington team drive a ball through the Warrenton goal posts. With seconds left Warrenton's John Hopwell scored to tie up the game again.

The pace began to quicken in the 4th. with Nickie Arundel's shot at the Washington goal stopped only inches away by John Keeler. Warrenton's John Gulick then made it good. Seconds before the chukker was over John Keeler made a goal for Washington.

NATIONAL PONY CLUB RALLY NOTES

Individual winners at the Second National Rally of the United States Pony Clubs at the Elkridge-Harford Hunt Club, Monkton, Maryland, August 20-23 were A or Associate, Edward Houghton (Radnor); Team Captain—non-riding, Gayle Lee (Middle Tennessee II); Helper, Carol Hawkins (Middle Tennessee II); Boy Helper, Ronnie Buckwalter (Radnor); and Boy Rider, Edward Houghton (Radnor).

Mrs. Dean Bedford, Chairman of the Committee appeared to many of the contestants as always being in two places at the same time.

The performances in Dressage were criticized for improper execution of the fundamentals such as moving on a straight line, a number of observers remarking that it would seem advisable to use more elementary tests in the future.

Although many of the contestants had had coaching as to the necessity of "warming up" before school athletic events, very few of them did so before the Dressage Event. The three members of the Creshire Team received a perfect score in the foxhunting quiz.

In the Cross-County Event few contestants seemed to have used a watch to time themselves, many arriving ahead of time with their horses blown. Mrs. A. D. Rockwell, the judge of Stable Management, gave an excellent report on practically all teams in this department.

After a visit to the kennels of the Elkridge-Harford Hunt on the afternoon of the second day, all contestants were invited to cub hunt with this pack under the guidance of Mrs. Bedford the following morning. Only the Blue Ridge Hunt and Radnor turned out in full force, however. Among the most enthusiastic foot followers was Mrs. John Reidy, Secretary of the national organization.

RICHARD W. CARTER

Richard W. Carter, a descendant of one of Virginia's most prominent families, died last week. He was well known in Middleburg and the surrounding area for his enthusiastic interest in the breeding of hunters and Thoroughbred race horses.

Mr. Carter had been breeding horses on a small scale since his discharge from the services after World War II. He was keenly interested in the racing records of the horses which he bred and would travel many miles to see them perform. Smoked Ham, a 4-year-old dark brown son of Alquest—Quartet, by *Quatre Bras II, was his most recent winner. He also stood the stakes winner Eurasian, which proved to be a shy breeder, on his Mt. Defiance Farm just outside of Middleburg, Va.

Richard Welby Carter will be sadly missed by his many friends and those who appreciate what the small breeder really means to the sport of racing.

LUCKY HORSESHOE

M. F. H. of the Genesee Hunt William Wadsworth and Mrs. Wadsworth were hosts at the traditional Lucky Horseshoe Pony Show held for the younger generation each year. Exhibitors were mushrooming with over sixty local children competing. One of the favorite classes was the family one, which brought out a large representative group. The Harris family took the blue ribbon with five members participating.—M. K.

JEAN RITTENOUR'S DON'CHA DARE

Ohio is rightfully proud of Jean Rittenour, Rittwood Farm, Columbus, Ohio. Her good looking chestnut mare Don'cha Dare was reserve Hunter champion at the Dayton, Ohio Horse Show. Jean raised and trained this mare herself. She was sired by Man O'Sport and out of Bessie Dare. Bessie Dare was sired by Dr. Dare, a Saddlebred horse and it was this mare along with two others—Dare Me and 'Possum Pie that put Jean through college—from prize money won at shows during the summer months. So, to the old timers Don'cha Dare means a lot in their pride.—N. L.

BEE STING FATAL TO HORSES

Jean Caples, a 19-year-old farmer, slapped at two bees annoying him while ploughing on his farm near Hergy, Troynes, France. The angry bee left him, but later returned with swarms from 30 hives in the neighborhood and attacked himself and his horses in earnest. Caples escaped to a nearby farm house and beat off his attackers after being seriously stung, but the bees settled on the unfortunate farm horses and stung them to death.—S. L.

MONMOUTH MOMENTS

Any one seeking a baby-sitter might keep Frank Wright in mind. Having paid an early visit to the Allison Sterns' cocktail and buffet supper party for the hurdle fraternity, the Happy Hill Farm's flat trainer acted as baby-sitter while Bobby and Jill Davis joined the group of merry-makers. It was the former Jill Johnson's first night out since the birth of their baby girl on July 20th. . . The Allison Sterns' party was again a huge success with the blue, white and green stable colors decorating the tables and the bartenders garbed in jockey silks. . . Having captured the Monmouth Oaks when her Levee shattered the track record for 1 1/8 miles, Mrs. Vernon G. Cardy will become the first owner to win flat and hurdle stakes, should her *Square Dance 2nd, prevail over a fleet group of hurdlers in the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap on August 3rd. . . Mrs. George Howell, secretary of the Monmouth Hunt, is going a bit gimpy, the result of being kicked by a horse while judging a local show recently. It seems

POLICE STEEPLECHASER

The late Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, whose great star, Kellsboro Jack, won England's famed Grand National, was an enthusiastic observer of the wonderful manner in which New York's mounted police handle traffic from horseback and gave the cops one of her retired topers.

These horses are customarily trained for police work at the city stables on Madison Avenue in upper Manhattan. Most of them, shipped here from the west, are introduced to city noises. A

Chronicle Cover

Our cover picture is apparently a study for the larger portrait of Thomas Assheton-Smith with his Tedworth Hounds which was painted in 1829. Ferneley was the guest of Mr. Smith for a fortnight during the execution of the portrait, which shows in the background Mr. Assheton-Smith on Ayston, a favorite hunter for whom, it is said, "his Master would at no time have taken a thousand guineas." He was named after the village of Ayston in Leicestershire. Dick Burton, the whipper-in, is shown on foot holding his horse, Big Grey, while several couples of hounds are depicted, all of them portraits of individual favourites. Rifleman stands close to Dick Burton, a light-coloured dog; in the foreground sits old Watchman, a black and white stallion hound, while Commodore lies beside him. Sitting at the right of the picture is Remus. The picture is of particular interest in that the English hound of 1829 was so similar to the American hound of 1956.

Mr. Assheton-Smith came to the Tedworth as Master in 1826. He had only a scratch pack of hounds and killed but 4½ brace that first season. In 1827 he bought Sir Richard Sutton's (Burton) hounds and it seems probable that many of the hounds portrayed are of Sir Richard Sutton's breeding though there is no means of verifying this in the stud book. Mr. Assheton-Smith had been Master of the Quorn from 1806-1817 and subsequently sold his hounds to Sir Richard Sutton, so that he was getting back his old strains by re-purchasing from Sir Richard. He maintained the Tedworth, as a private pack, for 22 years entirely at his own expense, often killing 60 or 70 brace of foxes in a season.—D.M.

Poppy, Working Hunter Champion, Wisconsin State Fair, owned by George W. Jayne and ridden by Marion Jayne. Mrs. Jayne is shown receiving the Rinnie Minton Memorial Challenge Trophy for the Hunter Champion. Poppy also won the $1,000 Stake and the Open Hunter Class.

readers learned that the 'chase rider got his start by riding trotters on Parisian courses which offer this unusual form of equine competition.

ADAPTABILITY OF THE FOX

A correspondent of "The Field" writes that although the rabbit population of Scotland has been virtually exterminated by myxomatosis the foxes in that country are in fine condition and have adapted themselves to a new diet largely consisting of field mice and moles. Wildcats on the other hand, which supposedly would know much favorite trick of the police trainers is to take a horse to parades or high school football games involving a band. Eventually they become calm enough to stroll through Time Square and ignore a roaring fire engine.

Well, Mrs. Clark's horse was being given a tentative walk through Queens when an ambulance suddenly turned a nearby corner and sounded its bell. The horse, remembering the clang of the bell at the starting gate, took off as though competing in the Kentucky Derby and gave a perspiring cop the ride of his life.
